How to Avoid Being Deceived by 'The World,' 'The Flesh' and 'The Devil': (A Look at Ways to Test Religious Claims and Spiritual Phenomena) (Christian Discernment Book 2) Raymond Creed

This work aims to help readers test particular spiritual phenomena for themselves no matter whether it emanates from personal experience, public ministry, formal teaching, tradition, verbal utterance or e. mail correspondence. As such, it represents an exercise in getting people to think for themselves. It can readily be viewed as a guide, enabling believers to apply the instruction of 1 John 4:1. An important assumption is that whilst avoiding spiritual and other forms of deception isn't always easy, it is possible with the help of scripture and the Holy Spirit.

By the end of this chapter the reader should be able to: -

- 1) Accept the need to have the right attitudes before testing spiritual phenomena
- 2) Know when scripture is being manipulated for reasons of self-interest
- 3) Tell the difference between important and less important biblical doctrines
- 4) Actively avoid (or turn completely away from) major any form of deception
- 5) Include right spiritual and doctrinal influences in their lives
- 6) Recognise abusive leaders
- 7) Tell the difference between true and false ministries
- 8) Provide objective criteria to assess spiritual claims
- 9) Separate helpful from harmful cultural influences
- 10) Differentiate between simple discernment and the gift of distinguishing between spirits

However, there is NO intention of: -

- 1) Looking at the wider subject of spiritual warfare
- 2) Looking at the whole question of how its best to interpret scripture
- 3) Providing an in-depth psychological analysis of abusive leaders

Readers are expected to understand how the various methods outlined in this workcan be used in conjunction with one another.
