' If sex and relationship education is established within the context of Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE) at primary level, as children reach puberty they will know and understand that they will change and develop, and will have confidence in managing the physical and emotional changes.' Sex and Relationship Guidance 2000, DfES Sex and Relationship Education in Primary School will enable primary schools to deliver effective and age-appropriate sex and relationships education (SRE). This resource provides everything a primary school needs to provide Key Stage two pupils with the effective sex and relationships education they deserve. It will ensure that teaching staff feel comfortable and confident to teach SRE, therefore proving an environment where pupils are not afraid to discuss matters of a personal nature.
