As One Marriage Begins,
Five Others Are Put to the Test.

Drawn to Lakeside Inn from a variety of locations as diverse as they are, Elizabeth Anderson, Suzette Burke, Ingrid Campbell, Margaret Simpson, and Laura Fairbanks—the bride’s aunt, family friend, bridesmaid, grandmother of the bride, and sister of the groom—seemingly share little more than their collective joy for the couple marrying at the mountain resort. During the course of one unforgettable day, however, each woman reaches a point of reckoning in her own most intimate relationship.

As their stories unfold, the women of necessity turn to one another—upholding each other through the pain of postpartum depression, doubts about an upcoming wedding, the discovery of a husband’s affair, reflections on the ups and downs of life as a war bride, and plans to end a 25-year marriage. Through it all, their connection with one another deepens and grows, as does their understanding of themselves and of the healing power of love, perseverance, and friendship.

Ronald Sadowski:

As a university student exactly feel bored for you to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or make a summary for some book, they are complained. Just very little students that have reading's internal or real interest. They just do what the instructor wants, like asked to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring and also can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever you want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this On This Day can make you feel more interested to read.
